

RESOURCES FOR FEMINIST RESEARCH / DOCUMENTATION SUR LA RECHERCHE FÉMINISTE

A Journal of Feminist Scholarship

Call for Papers: New Feminist Research Issue

Resources for Feminist Research/Documentation sur la recherche féministe (RFR/DRF), a peer-reviewed, academic journal invites submission of work that addresses interdisciplinary feminist scholarship for our New Feminist Research Issue.

We are interested in original and engaging research articles that consider from a variety of feminist perspectives, issues of gender and its connections and interactions with class, culture, race, sexuality, nation and disability. Articles on these and other appropriate topics are welcome submissions to our journal.

Submissions should be original and not previously published (in any format). Manuscripts should be 10,000 words or less (including notes and references). Submit, via email, a cover letter and your full contact information in the body of the email. Attach to email an electronic copy of your manuscript, without any identifying information in it, along with an abstract and brief bio in a separate document. Manuscript should be submitted as a .doc or .docx document (do not submit it as a .pdf file).

Email your submission to rfr@utoronto.ca

Please note that submissions under review elsewhere are not accepted.
