

Saturday September 25, 2010

8:30 - 4:30

OISE Student Services Presents:

Educating for Peace and Justice: Action for Safe & Equitable Classrooms, Schools & Communities

Choose up to 3 small group, interactive, and practical workshops on specific aspects of anti-violence, constructive conflict management, peacemaking education, social justice, and activism in school settings, applicable to various grade levels and subject areas.

THEMES INCLUDE:

- o Teaching Controversial Issues
- o Classroom Practice as Activism
- o Bullying and Aggression
- o Peacebuilding and Restorative Justice
- o Gender-based violence and equity
- o Challenging homophobia and harassment
- o Conflict resolution/ transformation
- o Peer mediation
- o Strategies to become an activist educator
- o Power and Privilege and Equity
- o Safe and Inclusive Classrooms/ Schools
- o Addressing Race and Racism
- o Aboriginal Issues
- o Religious Diversity
- o Challenging Class Bias
- o School Safety and Discipline
- o Dis/Ability
- o Global Citizenship
- o Environmental Sustainability
- o Youth Activism
- o Curriculum Infusion

KEYNOTE SPEAKER: Julian Falconer LLB -- 3:00pm

Opening Remarks -- 8:45am

Concurrent Workshops -- 9:30am, 11:15am, and 1:30pm

Educating for Peace and Justice Resource Fair

~Make connections for your internship

~View and take home materials on peacebuilding, anti-violence, and equity initiatives

Registration begins September 9th at the OISE Student Services website. Register early for your first choice of workshops! <http://www.studentservices.oise.utoronto.ca/conferences.aspx>

For more information contact peaceandjustice.oise@utoronto.ca

Registration is FREE!

Lunch is provided --12:30 - 1:30

Participants receive a certificate