Radical Black Political Thought in the 20th and 21st Centuries

GUEST KEYNOTE SPEAKER: PROFESSOR ANTHONY BOGUES

Working with and through a black radical/critical intellectual and political tradition, this talk – hosted by the Department of Social Justice Education, Ontario Institute for Studies in Education – will map another genealogy of critical theory which posits that the central issues of our time are our modes of production of the human and freedom. It will argue that contemporary black radical political thought (including the contributions of W.E.B. Du Bois, Sylvia Wynter, Frantz Fanon and Aimé Césaire) opens up spaces for the reframing of current critical theory.

Professor Anthony Bogue is an Asa Messer Professor of Humanities and Critical Theory; Professor of Africana Studies and Director of the Center for the Study of Slavery and Justice (CSSJ), Brown University. He is an associate director of the Center for Caribbean Thought, University of the West Indies, Mona; a member of the editorial collective for the journal boundary 2 and honorary professor at the Center for African Studies, the University of Cape Town, South Africa.

Professor Bogue's major research and writing address intellectual, literary and cultural history, radical political thought, political theory, critical theory, Caribbean and African politics as well as Haitian, Caribbean, and African Art.
