The Canadian Journal of Science, Mathematics and Technology Education is the first academic journal in this field published in Canada. Now in its eighth year, this exciting journal has generated great enthusiasm among Canadian and international scholars. Published in English and French, the journal provides an international forum for the publication of original articles written in a variety of styles, including research investigations using experimental, qualitative, ethnographic, historical, philosophical, or case study approaches; critical reviews of the literature; policy perspectives; and position papers, curriculum arguments, and discussion of issues in teacher education.
