Dr. T. Len Holdstock

A STUDENT AND FRIEND OF DR. CARL ROGERS FOR 27 YEARS

Professor Len Holdstock (PhD, Wisconsin) has studied and worked in South Africa, the United States and the Netherlands. His clinical and research interests span brain and sleep research, personality theory, clinical, cultural, and critical psychology. In addition, he has published books in education, transpersonal art and most recently a poetry volume. Carl Rogers described him as the most versatile psychologist he has come across.

Thursday, February 22, 2007, Room 12-199, OISE/UT

Program

12:30 - 1:30pm
"In the Therapist's Chair" with Dr. T. Len Holdstock

1:30 - 2:00pm
Intermission

2:00 - 3:30pm
Seminar presentation by Dr. T. Len Holdstock
Client/Person Centered Therapy from a Cultural Perspective

All are welcome. No RSVP required.