CIDE ANNUAL REPORT 2012-2013
The Comparative, International and Development Education Centre (CIDEC) is a research and graduate education centre at the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education (OISE) at the University of Toronto. CIDEC’s mandate is to promote excellence, collaboration, and innovation in comparative international education research and teaching at OISE. During the 2012-2013 year, the CIDEC community included 48 core and affiliated faculty members, 5 adjunct faculty, and 5 visiting scholars. CIDEC is the institutional anchor for OISE’s popular collaborative degree in Comparative, International and Development Education, which draws graduate students and faculty from seven programs at OISE. Approximately 120 graduate student researchers with an interest in international issues and comparative methodologies are affiliated with the Centre.

This year, we are pleased to present an annual report that reflects the wide range of geographic and thematic research interests supported by CIDEC. We highlight in a (i) new book project Public Private Partnerships in Education: New Actors and Modes of Governance in a Globalising World – a book project that tackles the complex role of public private partnerships in education (p. 16), (ii) Stephen Anderson Chile Project, and (iii) initiatives of the Canada-Afghanistan/Central Eurasia Education Research Group (p. 10). In breadth, this year’s CIDEC research has taken us to Central Asia, Chile, China, and Africa. Offshoots of the many research projects have resulted in a critical mass of publications (p. 21), clear evidence that CIDEC brings momentum to international research on education at OISE.

On another note, this year we lost two of our esteemed faculty, Joseph Farrell and Roxana Ng. Joe Farrell was a founding director of the CIDE center and program and an OISE faculty for 40 years. His award winning research on alternative schools in the developing world, educational planning, and equity in education has informed educational practice and scholarship worldwide. Roxana Ng’s research on the experiences of immigrant women has shaped the field of immigration studies in Canada. Her work on institutional ethnography and embodied learning attracted interest from students and colleagues from around the world. Both faculty will be deeply missed by all of us at CIDEC, OISE, and the broader comparative, international, education community.

CIDEC was, once again, privileged to host a large number of comparative scholars from around the world at our 2012-2013 Seminar Series including: Elaine Unterhalter and Susan Robertson(UK), Jane Kenway (Aus), Nico van Ouverden and Rona Dhalla van Ouverden (Netherlands), Mehrunissa Ahmed Ali (Ryerson University), Mir Afzal Tajik (the Aga Khan University), and Yael Tamir (Israel), Ray Langsten (Cairo) and Nahla Abdo (Carleton University). Our students also joined together for a day of presentations, at the newly re-named Joseph P. Farrell Student Research Symposium in February, which show-cased work from across departments and degrees.

We also saw Dr. Karen Mundy move to her new position as Associate Dean Research as well Vice President of the Comparative International Education Society (CIES) for North America. To this end, OISE will host the next year’s annual conference of the CIES in March 2014. CIDEC both as a center and a collaborative program extends their congratulations to Professor Mundy and is ready to support her to successfully host the next CIES.
This report will also feature some of the key activities, publications and high level presentations of the CIDE faculty, students, CIDE Students Association, and indeed some of our alumni who are doing excellent work in academia and development organizations within Canada and around the world. We hope and believe you will find this report comprehensive and educative.

Stephen Anderson & Sarfaroz Niyozov

Co-Directors, CIDE

Special Thanks to Dr. Karen Mundy who was Co-Director to Dec. 31, 2013. Dr. Mundy remains as CIDE faculty in addition to new responsibilities as Associate Dean, Research at OISE and President-Elect of CIES.

Stephen Bahry  Visiting Scholar
Dates of Appointment: January 2011 – December 2013

Stephen Bahry recently received his doctorate in the Comparative, International and Development Education Program and Department of Curriculum, Teaching, and Learning at Ontario Institute for Studies in Education at the University of Toronto. His dissertation, Perspectives on quality in minority education in China: The case of Sunan Yughur Autonomous County, Gansu, was a multiple embedded case study of stakeholder perspectives on the place of local knowledge, and minority language and culture within quality education under conditions of minority language endangerment and curriculum reform. The thesis was selected co-winner of the CIES Language Issues Dissertation Competition Award. His recent comparative work focuses on the intersection of educational reform, language-in-education policy and practice, and minority education, focusing on curriculum reform, quality perspectives, cultural and linguistic diversity and bilingual and multicultural education.

Elaine Lam  Visiting Scholar
Dates of Appointment: July 2010 - December 2012

Elaine Lam is a Research Fellow at Bath Spa University where she formerly led the International Education degree program and was a tenure track professor. She is currently a Senior Consultant in Higher Education at Deloitte and Touche LLP within their public sector consulting practice, and is advising a Ministry of Education funded gap closing strategy project in intermediate-senior mathematics. Elaine completed her PhD in 2009 in education borrowing in the Caribbean, and holds a MSc from Oxford University, B.Ed and B.A with honours from Queen's University.

Kerrie Proulx  Visiting Scholar
Dates of Appointment: March 2012 – December 2013

Kerrie Proulx works internationally to support program implementation and policy development through research and evaluation. Her work focuses on educational access, transitions and equity (social class, ethnicity & gender) and aims to increase understanding of the reasons why some children and youth fail to access and complete education, and why some succeed against the odds in education. Her recent work in Bangladesh has examined the impact of early childhood education and maternal education on children’s access, participation and achievement in the early years of primary school. She has worked for numerous non-profit international agencies to provide research guidance in early childhood programmes and strengthen the capacity of country offices to develop and implement effective research strategies. She holds a Doctorate in Education from the University of Warwick in the UK and a Masters in Psychology from the University of Munich.
Zahra Punja
Visiting Scholar,
Dates of Appointment: February 2011 - December 2012

Zahra Punja received her PhD from the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education at the University of Toronto in the area of Knowledge Building in Medical Education. She also has a Masters in Arts in Educational Technology from Concordia University, a Bachelor of Education from York University and a Honours Bachelor of Arts in Psychology from York University. This past year, Zahra worked as a Consultant for the Mental Health Commission of Canada's Peer Support Project. She was also a researcher for Professor Itiel Dror at Cognitive Consultants International. From 2008-2009, Zahra worked for the Royal College of Physicians of Canada where she worked on a research project involving patient safety. Her CIDE Visiting Scholar project builds on this research, and proposes to design, teach and evaluate patient safety online using mobile learning to the Aga Khan University Medical School East Africa campus. She is a Reviewer for the journal of Medical Education and Medical Teacher.

Anna Rzevska
Visiting Scholar,
Dates of Appointment: April 2012 - March 2013

Anna received her Ph.D. from Luhansk Tara Shevchenko National University, Ukraine. Her general research interest is the European Higher Education Area with emphasis on Modern West European universities. As the academic administrator she pays particular attention to the European university practice which includes international activities; governance, management, administration; financing, and quality assurance. In 2011, she published a book, Development of Modern University Education in West European Countries, in Ukrainian.
Canada-China University Linkages in a New Era of Global Geo-Politics

Principal Investigator: Dr. Ruth Hayhoe
Funding: Social Science and Humanities Research Council Research Grant, $111,001.00
Duration: 2011-2014

Canada-China university linkages date back to the 1980s. The CIDA-supported Canada-China University Linkage Program (CCULP, 1988-1995) paired 31 Canadian universities with Chinese counterparts in areas such as health, agriculture, education, and engineering in order to develop the institutional capacity of the Chinese universities and support them in contributing to China’s development. Building on the successes and strengths of CCULP, the Canada-China Special University Linkage Consolidation Program (SULCP, 1996-2001) supported 11 projects involving 25 Canadian and more than 200 Chinese universities, teaching hospitals, schools, and governmental and non-governmental agencies. The combined span of CCULP and SULCP (1985-2001) coincided with a period of pivotal change in Chinese society. Indeed, apart from Soviet Union in the 1950s, no other country has assisted the development of China’s higher education at a comparable scale.

This project has aimed to explore the historical contribution made by the universities and other social institutions on both sides that were involved in these linkages, and to see what lessons can be learned from the legacy of these projects. Over the past two years, the research team has interviewed about sixty five scholars and government officials in both Canada and China who had a direct involvement in the project. In the past year, we focused on interviews with Canadian scholars and made a research trip to Edmonton and Vancouver, to meet with scholars at University of Alberta, University of British Columbia and Simon Fraser University in May. In September, we made a trip to Quebec, interviewing scholars at Laval and Universite de Montreal. We also visited Ottawa and made interviews at the Headquarters of CIDA and the AUCC. For further details, see the project website: http://www.oise.utoronto.ca/cidec/Research/Canada_China_University_Linkages.html

Upcoming in 2014 will be a major conference at Tsinghua University in Beijing, with keynote speakers from Canada and China who have played a leadership role across the fields of management, agriculture, health, engineering, education and minority cultures. For the conference rationale and call for papers, see http://www.oise.utoronto.ca/cidec/Research/conference_2014.html

Education For All: Global Politics and Prospects

Principal Investigator: Dr. Karen Mundy, with collaborators: Dr. Ruth Hayhoe, Dr. Prachi Srivastava and postdoctoral fellow Dr. Francine Menashy.
Funding: SSHRCC Standard Grant $109,000
Duration: 2010 - 2014

The research proposed for this SSHRC is focused on the evolution of global efforts to achieve Education for All (EFA). It will focus on a) understanding the role of the World Bank in shaping international collective action on EFA; (including in particular its role in promoting public-private partnerships); b) exploring the roles of emergent donors (such as China and India); c) documenting the role of newer/newly emerged foundations in education and development, and of new transnational non-state actors in EFA; and d) mapping the effects of interventions by these new actors in two African countries (Kenya and Tanzania). The project will highlight the continued gulf between collective aspirations and achievements in this arena. It was developed in conjunction with three research collaborators: Professor Ruth Hayhoe, Professor Prachi Srivastava and post-doctoral fellow Francine Menashy.

Canada-Afghanistan/Central Eurasia Education Research Group

Research Team: Dr. Sarfaroz Niyozov, Dr. Stephen Bahry, and CIDE students: Spogmai Akseer, Rahat Zholdoshalieva, Srehyi Kovalchuk, and CIDE visiting fellow Anna Rzhevsk

EERG’s activities in 2012-2013 included applications for grants, publications, presentations and networking. Dr. Niyozov with a group of scholars (some from EERG) applied for a SSHRC grant for comparative study of Afghan and Somali students’ experiences of public schooling in Toronto. His paper Exploiting Globalization While Being Exploited by It was published in the Canadian and International Education, Special Issue in the fall of 2012. On Jan 22, 2013, Dr. Niyozov gave a presentation at CIDEC, “Encountering Globalization in Central Asia: Is There an Alternative to Neoliberalism?”. In addition, he has three chapters in press in related to Central Asian education and culture (see faculty publication list below). Dr. Niyozov also gave several key note and invited lectures in Pakistan in 2012 on Globalization and Education in Central Asia. In May –June 2013, Niyozov will be teaching a course of Sociology of Education in Central Asia (part 2) organized by the Open Society Institute, Dushanbe. Dr. Niyozov is working with several visiting scholars including Mehmet Durmus from Turkey who is exploring Gullen-inspired schools in Pakistan, Turkey and the USA.

Dr. Bahry is a member of several CIES SIGs: Eurasia, Indigenous Knowledge, and Language Issues, and is on the Language Issues Panel Organizing Committee for CIES 2014. His recent work related to the research group focuses on the place of language issues in educational quality and equity in west China, Afghanistan and Ukraine. Dr. Bahry is now working with Prof. O. Falenchuk and SLE graduate student, Max Antonenko, on the Standardized External Testing in Ukraine (secondary subjects exit examinations), examining results across factors such as region, language, rural/urban residence and school type, parallel to a similar study of EQAO results in Toronto and GTA. Dr. Bahry’s publications are listed on p.33 and he is currently reviewing two books relevant to language issues in education in the region, for the peer-reviewed journals, Language Policy, and Frontiers of Education in China.

Rakhat Zholdoshalieva is currently working on her doctoral research thesis on rural Kyrgyz high school students’ educational, learning and work experiences in post-Soviet conditions of Kyrgyzstan. She is active member of the Eurasia Special Interest Group at the CIES. She has several relevant publications listed on p.33 and is currently writing up her dissertation, supervised by Dr. Peter Sawchuk, on the aspirations of rural youth in Kyrgyzstan for education and employment.

Dr. Anna Rzhevsk is currently back in Ukraine, teaching and Luhanks Pedagogical University. She is expected to return and present at CIDEC in May 2013.

Serhiy Kovalchuk’s research interests lie within areas such as: citizenship education, initial teacher education, and educational policy analysis. He explores these topics within the context of Ukraine and other post-Soviet countries. Serhiy has been an active member of the Eurasia Special Interest Group (SIG) within CIES. This past year he served as a member of the SIG election committee, he organized a multidisciplinary panel entitled “Youth in Post-Soviet Contexts: Exploring Political, Social and Psychological Conditions of the Next Generation,” and in 2012, Serhiy was a recipient of Helen Darcovich Memorial Doctoral Fellowship (Canadian Institute of Ukrainian Studies) and Global Supplementary Grant (Open Society Foundations). Serhiy had several co-publications in 2012, one with Prof. Kathy Bickmore, on classroom communities for constructive discussions of conflict, and one with C. G. Robbins on pedagogies of punishment and neoliberalism, and has a forthcoming review appearing in the Journal of Peace education. Serhiy is now doing fieldwork in for his thesis on how teacher educators in Ukraine understand democracy, citizenship and education, and teacher education in the context of Ukraine’s transition to democracy.

The World Bank and Privatization in Education: History, Policies, Practices

Principal Investigator: Dr. Karen Mundy; with Dr. Francine Menashy (Postdoctoral Fellow); Robyn Read and Emily Antze (Research Assistants)

Funding: Open Society Institute $25,000

Duration: December 2010 - August 2014

This project, sponsored by the Open Society Institute (OSI) Education Support Programme’s Private Education Research Initiative, seeks to improve understanding of the evolution of World Bank policies and practices and their impact on education in developing countries. The research has included a historical review of the Bank’s formal policies and research on education, a detailed analysis of the Bank’s education sector lending portfolio, and an exploration of the key decision-making processes that have shaped World Bank policies and lending operations related to the role of the private sector in education, based on interviews with senior staff in the research, thematic, and operational divisions of the institution. The preliminary findings of this research were presented to the OSI at a conference in August 2011 in Nepal. A final report was submitted in April 2012, with conclusive findings to be presented to the OSI in the fall of 2012.

The World Bank and the Privatization of Education: Country Cases

Principal Investigator: Karen Mundy; with Dr. Caroline Manion, Dr. Francine Menashy, and Momina Alfridi (Doctoral Student)

Funding: Open Society Foundations, $45,000

Duration: November 2013 to December 2015

This project is an extension of our initial project with the Open Society Institute. The project extends that research by exploring the role of the World Bank in the privatization of K-12 Education in low and middle income countries.

Partnership with the Fundación Chile (FCH) in Santiago, Chile

Principal contributors: OISE: Dr. Stephen Anderson, Dr. Joseph Flessa, Director of Continuing Education Barbara Bodkin; FCH Dr. Jose Weinstein, Gonzalo Muñoz, Mario Uribe.

A three year partnership agreement between FCH and the Comparative, International and Development Education Centre OISE/UT was renewed in February 2013. During 2012 three groups of approximately 30 school principals from Chile participated in two week leadership certificate courses at OISE/UT as part of a collaboratively developed in-service leadership development program. The program was developed with FCH and delivered through OISE/UT’s Continuing Education Department. It is partially funded though a Chilean Ministry of Education sponsored school leadership development initiative. Anderson and Flessa, and several colleagues from other OISE programs took part (Carol Campbell, Blair Mascall, Jeff Kugler). Dr. Flessa travelled to Chile to deliver a leadership module for FCH as part of an ongoing masters in educational leadership program sponsored by FCH and the Universidad de Desarrollo. Anderson and Flessa continued collaborating in school leadership research in Chile, with the FCH education research team, as well as contributing a chapter to a book on principal leadership in Chile. We welcomed Javiera Marfán from FCH as a Visiting Scholar in May. Through the partnership relationship, Dr. Barrie Bennett (OISE/UT Curriculum, Teaching and Learning) also travelled to Chile and delivered regional lectures and workshops on his work on teachers’ instruction expertise.

In January 2013, FCH and OISE/UT jointly hosted the 26th annual International Congress for School Effectiveness and Improvement in Santiago, Chile. The Congress was attended by about 520 delegates (about 50% from Latin America), with approximately 300 scholarly presentations (papers, seminars, posters). Anderson served as the Academic Program Chair. The Academic Program Committee included a dozen members from OISE/UT and other Canadian Universities, and an equivalent number from Latin America. The conference featured five keynote speakers, including two associated with OISE/UT – Michael Fullan and Marlene Scardamalia. Several OISE/UT professors and graduate students took part in the paper and symposium sessions.

Canada Foundation for Innovation: Research Infrastructure Grant for CIDE and the CIDE Global Governance Laboratory.

Principal Investigator: Karen Mundy
Funding: Canada Research Chair: Foundation for Innovation, $150,271.00
Duration: January 2010-July 2013

In 2011 the Global Governance Research Lab updated its equipment, including the purchase of research software such as SPSS, Nvivo, and Dragon Speak. Our research team also determined the type of infrastructure necessary for a flexible videoconferencing system that will allow web streaming and video capture of live events across multiple platforms, such as Skype, Adobe Connect and Collaborate. In the summer of 2012, the Smart Room (7105) equipment was updated, and a new podium installed to increase our capacity and efficiency in producing live web-streamed events.

Learning about self and the world beyond: Cultural, religious and social justice clubs in high schools 2012-2014

Project Staff: Antoinette Gagné (principal investigator), Stephanie Soto Gordon (field partner), Genna Megaw (videographer), Marlon Valencia, Diane Dekker, and Sama Hamid (GAs)
Funding and Duration: We received funding via the Inquiry into Practice Project 2012 to June 2014.

Focus: The research study builds on the successes of the five DVDs and resources guides in the Growing New Roots Series as well as a Ministry-funded Speak Up Project at WL Mackenzie CI focusing on the impact of club involvement for English languages learners. This study focuses on the role of cultural, religious and social justice clubs in terms of student participation and identity development in 4 TDSB secondary schools as well as among members of the Student SuperCouncil. The study explores 1) the impact of cultural, religious or social justice club involvement on students, 2) the type of relationships students develop as a result of their membership in cultural, religious or social justice clubs and 3) what students learn from their peers in these clubs and how this relates to their understanding of themselves and the world beyond.

An online survey and videotaped focus group interviews are our two main sources of data. Study findings and video clips highlighting key themes will be posted on the DiT - Diversity in Teaching website.
http://wordpress.oise.utoronto.ca/diversityinteaching/ along with related resources on cultural, religious and social justice clubs.

Diverse Teachers for Diverse Learners -- UK Economic and Social Research Council Seminar Series 2012-2014

Project staff: Antoinette Gagné, Clea Schmidt - University of Manitoba and Geri Smyth – University of Strathclyde and additional partners from the UK as well as Norway and Iceland.

Funding and Duration: The Economic and Social Research Council in the UK funded a six-part seminar series taking place over a two-year period spanning 2010 to 2012

Focus: This seminar series built on the work that was initiated with the support of a SSHRC International Opportunities Fund Grant that I held in 2008 and 2009. The focus of the research network has broadened and now focuses on the diversification of the teaching force to support the needs of students from diverse backgrounds. We have been developing and expanding the Diversity in Teaching website by posting the papers and workshop materials shared at each seminar. Partners involved in this seminar series include representatives of public sector and academic institutions in the UK, Norway and Canada. Across the six seminars a range of theoretical, empirical, practical and policy areas were explored. The seminars were scheduled every 4 to 5 months beginning in February 2011 and included: Seminar 1 International Perspectives on Teacher Diversity (University of Strathclyde); Seminar 2 Defining the Issues (University of Southampton); Seminar 3 Diverse teachers sharing experiences of their professional lives (GTCS); Seminar 4 Young people sharing perceptions of teacher diversity (University of Strathclyde); Seminar 5 Exploring the Issues (University of Birmingham) Seminar 6 Learning from the Issues for a different future (University of Glasgow)

Diverse Teachers for Diverse Learners (DTDL): A Nordforsk Research Network 2012-2014

Project staff: Antoinette Gagné, Clea Schmidt - University of Manitoba and Hanna Ragnarsdottir – University of Iceland and additional partners from the Scotland, Finland, Iceland, and Norway.

Funding and Duration: The Nordforsk Foundation has funded this Nordic country research network over a three-year period spanning 2011 to 2014.

Focus: This project includes senior researchers and graduate students from Finland, Iceland, Norway, the UK and Canada whose research touches on the aspects of diversity in teaching. This group will have the opportunity to meet 6 times between October 2011 and May 2014 to allow team members to create a research agenda, carry out a number of comparative projects and prepare joint publications on interrelated topics ranging from the diversification of the teaching force and inclusive teaching strategies to the experiences of immigrant children and youth and leadership for diversity. The meetings will take place in Iceland, Norway, the UK and Canada.

Diversity in Teaching (DiT) Website http://wordpress.oise.utoronto.ca/diversityinteaching/ 2012-2014

Project staff: Antoinette Gagné, Clea Schmidt (University of Manitoba), Mariana Jardim (Education Commons), Ariel Quinio, Marlon Valencia, Diane Dekker, and Sama Hamid (GAs), Jessica Lam and Daniel Chan (Work-Study Program)

Funding: Seed money for this website was provided by the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada as part of an International Opportunities Fund Grant.

Focus: The main goal of the Diversity in Teaching is to promote discussions, sharing of resources and collaboration among educators, teachers and administrators from all over the world who share the belief that ethnic, linguistic, religious, cultural and gender diversity in our classrooms will enhance the learning for all students. The DiT site includes information about events, projects, and resources related to teaching diverse learners and diversifying the teaching force with numerous ways to become involved. It is possible to submit a profile to the DiT Community, let others know about an upcoming conference or workshop, share resources, react to some of the videos or respond to one of the surveys.

Action Research Centre – ARC / SIA @ UPLA  A Site for Change - Un Sitio para el Cambio 2012-2014

Project Staff: Antoinette Gagné

As part of ongoing consultation around curriculum renewal in teacher education at Playa Ancha University in Valparaiso and San Felipe, Chile, Antoinette Gagné, in collaboration with UPLA colleagues, is guiding the creation of ARC which is a centre devoted to action research and reflective practice connected directly to the 2013-2016 Institutional Improvement Plan for Teacher Education at UPLA. ARC is connected to a Spanish-English bilingual website with information, resources and blogs located at http://wordpress.oise.utoronto.ca/arc/. Members of the UPLA community will be able to learn and collaborate virtually while working toward the milestones described in the 2013-2016 UPLA Institutional Improvement Plan. This site is currently under construction.

The goals of ARC include:

- The development of action research skills and reflective practice among members of the university community beginning with professors and teacher educators
- Providing support to professors / teacher educators in conducting action research projects related to their teaching, their disciplinary programs, the practicum, the admissions process, etc.
- To increase UPLA’s research capacity by creating a cadre of research mentors
- To create an infrastructure to support action research and field-based research beyond the 2013-16 Project

Antoinette Gagné is working on designing a collaborative research study with UPLA colleagues related to the process and eventual outcomes of engaging the UPLA community in action research.

Towards 100 Courses Taught in English – A Pilot Project Designed for Faculty at Northeastern University in Shenyang, China

Project Staff: Antoinette Gagné

This project is a pilot project designed at increasing the capacity of professors and administrators to teach and work in English. The pilot will include 20-25 professors and instructional leaders possessing at least a high intermediate level of proficiency in English from several faculties / departments including Engineering, Computer Science, Business, Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry at Northeastern University.

The pilot project for faculty and administrators interested in developing the skills to provide courses through the medium of English will include:

- Courses / workshops to improve teaching-specific proficiency in English at OISE
- Courses / workshops to develop intercultural communication skills at OISE
- Courses / Workshops on teaching disciplinary content (e.g. Math, Marketing) through the medium of English with opportunities for micro-teaching at OISE
- Courses / Workshops on innovative teaching strategies as well as the integration of instructional technology in higher education with opportunities for micro-teaching at OISE

- Observation of professors teaching a range of courses in different departments and faculties at the University of Toronto
- A cultural/recreational program in Toronto and other locations in Ontario

Antoinette Gagné will evaluate the effectiveness of the three-part pilot which includes a pre-departure and post-program components as well as a 6-month study period in Toronto.

Participants included: Chizoba Imoka, Cristina Jaimungal, Qin Liu, Josh Bhattacharya, Dr. Stephen ahry, Nancy Del Col (World Vision Canada), Mary Drinkwater.

On Tuesday, January 15, 2013, seven individuals (5 OISE/CIDEC graduate students, an international education policy analyst, and an INGO educational technology specialist) joined together with Mary Drinkwater, consultation leader, to review and provide feedback as part of Phase 2 of the UNESCO/Brookings U ‘Learning Metrics Task Force (LMTF)’ consultation process.

A summary report from the consultation session, combined with additional feedback from participants at the session, was forwarded to the LMTF. Mary Drinkwater, PhD candidate in LHAE & CIDE, will be joining a 20 member international discussion forum as part of the ‘LMTF Learning Methods and Measures Technical Working Group’ in Montreal from Jan 22-25, 2013 to review the results of the Phase 2 consultation process, refine recommendations, clarify indicators and begin drafting a ‘working paper’ to be presented to the LMTF.

Asia Society project on achievement gaps and diversity 2013

Project Lead: Professor Ben Levin has been commissioned by the Asia Society in New York to lead work between several cities in North America and Asia, looking at how these urban school systems attempt to reduce achievement gaps in education, especially for minority, immigrant and second language learners. Working with students Jacqueline Sohn and Sofya Malik, a paper was prepared as background for a meeting of the cities in Seattle in January, 2013. http://asiasociety.org/

The 2013 - 57th annual Comparative and International Education Society (CIES) conference brought together close to 2000 attendees for this weeklong event. Over twenty CIDEC faculty and students participated at CIES 2013, presenting papers, serving as chairs and discussants for panels and sessions, as well as a range of other activities, including special events organized by CIES Special Interest Groups (SIGs) and Standing Committees.

In honour of our beloved “Joe”, who passed away in December 2012, CIDEC hosted a memorial reception at CIES 2013: “In Memoriam of Dr. Joseph Farrell: A Remembrance of a Life and Career”. Close to thirty people attended the memorial, which included pictures of Joe, music (Joe singing around the campfire), and a number of touching reflections on a great scholar and friend. Representing CIDEC were Vandra Masemann, Karen Mundy, Kara Janigan, and Carly Manion.

After serving for two years as Secretary-Treasurer for the CIES Gender and Education Standing Committee, Dr. Caroline (Carly) Manion has been elected for a three-year term as Chair of this group.

CIDEC alumnus, Kara Janigan, was a presenter at the CIES Gender & Education committee pre-conference workshop, “Measuring Change in Gender Awareness: An Interactive Workshop”, organized by CARE and Miske Witt and Associates.

Kara Janigan has also been actively involved with the CIES New Scholars Committee, this year organizing a New Scholar Essentials session called Tips on Writing and Publishing, with Vandra Masemann and David Post (editor of the Comparative Education Review). Additionally, Kara was selected to participate in the New Scholars Publication Mentoring Workshop at CIES 2013.

As President-Elect, Dr. Karen Mundy announced at the CIES Business Meeting that CIES 2014 will be held in Toronto from March 10-15, 2014. (http://www.cies.us/index.shtml)

CIDE Student Association: Annual Report

The 2012-2013 CIDE SA core team had an interesting year working with the CIDE community. We had a couple of members leave due to work and personal circumstances (research abroad and the birth of a beautiful baby girl). However, we strived to bring a variety of stimulating and enjoyable academic activities to the CIDE students. During the beginning of the school year, we provided formal and informal academic advice and support as well as held several orientation and information sessions alongside OISE’s academic departments, CIDE's Q&A with program directors provided a great opportunity for new and existing students to learn more about the program and socialize over food.

We also contributed to the CIDE Joseph P. Farrell Student Research Symposium in February which provided CIDE students with an excellent opportunity to share their own research, along with getting to learn about several new publications being launched by faculty. In addition to our contributions to CIDE events, we also organized a variety of events including two documentary and pizza nights featuring "We are the people we've been waiting for" and "The Finland Phenomenon: Inside the World’s Most Surprising School System", and our end-of-term potlucks which always attracted existing students and staff as well as alumni. We welcome the new 2013-2014 CIDE SA team and look forward to their exciting events in the year ahead!
