

Emily Greenleaf

Emily Greenleaf is the Research Officer & Faculty Liaison at the Centre for Teaching Support & Innovation at the University of Toronto. In this role, she conducts and supports research on postsecondary teaching and learning, programs, and policy. She also has a partial secondment to the Faculty of Arts & Science at the University of Toronto where she provides research support to the Vice-Dean, Teaching & Learning.

Emily teaches an undergraduate course on the Canadian University in the Canadian Studies program at University College. She has also taught as a lecturer in the Vic One Ryerson stream and in courses on academic writing.

Email: emily.greenleaf@utoronto.ca