

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO
OISE | ONTARIO INSTITUTE
FOR STUDIES IN EDUCATION

Position in Humanities, Social Sciences and Social Justice Education
Assistant / Associate Professor –
Social and Cultural Theory and Philosophy of Education

Posting Date: November 7, 2012

Closing Date: December 31, 2012
(Open until Filled)

The Ontario Institute for Studies in Education, University of Toronto invites applications for a tenure-stream position in Social and Cultural Theory and Philosophy of Education at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor in the Department of Humanities, Social Sciences and Social Justice Education. The appointment is to commence July 1, 2013.

We seek candidates with a doctoral degree and expertise in some or all of the following areas: political philosophy, political theory, epistemology, and/or continental philosophy, with close attention to race and colonial contexts. The successful candidate will provide leadership to high school philosophy teaching and research, and supervise students in the areas of political philosophy, epistemology, continental philosophy and related areas of educational theory. Evidence of excellence in teaching and research is required. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching dossier, and a statement outlining current and future research interests. If you have any questions about this position, please contact the department at: csinclair@utoronto.ca. All application materials should be submitted on line at: <http://uoft.me/academicopportunities>.

The UofT application system can accommodate up to five attachments (10MB) per candidate profile; please combine attachments into one or two files in PDF/MS Word format. Submission guidelines can be found at: <http://uoft.me/how-to-apply>.

Applicants should also ask three referees to send letters directly to Professor Rinaldo Walcott, Chair via email to: csinclair@utoronto.ca by the closing date, December 31, 2012.

Established in 1827, the University of Toronto is Canada's largest and most research-intensive university and the only Canadian university to be named in the top 25 in the Times Higher Education World Rankings. Located in and around Toronto, one of the world's most diverse regions, the University of Toronto's vibrant academic life is defined by the cultural diversity in its community.

The Ontario Institute for Studies in Education (OISE) has, for more than a century, made a major contribution to advancing education, human development and professional practice around the world. With more than 72,000 alumni, close to 3,000 students and 20 research centres, ours is an intellectually rich and supportive community, guided by the highest standards of scholarship and a commitment to equity and social justice.

For more information please visit the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education homepage or the Department's website at: <http://www.oise.utoronto.ca/hsssje>.

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from visible minority group members, women, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, members of sexual minority groups, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.