

Shields, J. (2007). Mobilizing Immigration Research for Policy Effects: The Case of CERIS. CERIS Working Paper No. 58. Retrieved April 3, 2008 from <http://ceris.metropolis.net/Virtual%20Library/WKPP%20List/WKPP2007/CWP58.pdf>

- Author (T): Shields, J.
- Year of publication: 2007
- Name of resource: Mobilizing Immigration Research for Policy Effects: The Case of CERIS.
- Publisher or URL: CERIS Working Paper No. 58. Retrieved April 3, 2008 from <http://ceris.metropolis.net/Virtual%20Library/WKPP%20List/WKPP2007/CWP58.pdf>

Resource Focus

Policies

- Government

Resource Type

- Other: Research Report

Intended Audience

- Policy makers
- Researchers

Summary of content / Abstract

The paper discusses issues associated with the why and how of knowledge mobilization and knowledge transfer for 'policy effect' with respect to immigration and settlement. This is examined, in part, by considering the work the Joint Centre of Excellence for Research on Immigration and Settlement – Toronto (CERIS) in Canada, a Centre of Excellence associated with the Metropolis initiative.